Featured Piece
Wood Sculpture of Lord Brahma

This wood sculpture depicts Lord Brahma, the Creator in the Hindu Trimurti (alongside Vishnu and Shiva). Carved in a style typical of traditional South Indian temple woodwork.

Iconography
Brahma is traditionally depicted with four heads and multiple arms. The four faces represent the four Vedas, the oldest sacred texts of Hinduism, each facing a different direction. Multiple arms symbolize divine, superhuman capability.

Symbolism of the Attributes
• The staff/sceptre represents his creative power.

• The mala (prayer beads) represents time.

• The water pot (kamandalu) symbolizes the cosmic waters from which creation arises.

• The fourth hand often holds a book (the Vedas — knowledge) or forms a gesture of blessing (abhaya mudra).
